Christian Hebraism beyond Protestant Theology: Law, Politics, Statistics, Art & Language

12th Summer Academy on the History of the Jews in the Holy Roman Empire and its Successor States

Hamburg, Wolfenbüttel, Mühlhausen

18 - 31 August 2021

The summer academy on the history of the Jews in the Holy Roman Empire and its succesor states was established in 2009 as spin-off product of the research-cluster "The Jewish Holy Roman Empire". From its inception the main objective of the summer academy has been to acquaint students and early career scholars with an intensive, critical, interdisciplinary, research-oriented and source-based training in the history of the Jews and their relations with the non-Jewish environment in Central Europe from the late 15th century to the present. The programme of the summer academy is focused on, but not limited to the Jewish experience in the Holy Roman Empire.

It comprises altogether four components, each of which consists of at least twelve teaching units of 90 minutes each:

- Getting started in Legal History, Reichsgeschichte (History of the Holy Roman Empire of the German Nation) and Jewish History – Background knowledge and discussion
- 2. In-depth teaching units concerning the annually changing special topic
- 3. Excursions
- 4. Paleography courses

Palaeography courses are offered on demand in six different variants giving the participants the opportunity to acquire or enhance reading skills in original Czech, German, Hebrew, Yiddish, Judaeo-German and Latin sources on different levels.

1) Special Topic of the Summer Academy 2021: Christian Hebraism beyond Protestant Theology: Law, Politics, Ethnography, Statistics, Art, Culture & Language.

In the wake of Renaissance Humanism and the Reformation there had been a rapidly growing interest in the Hebrew Bible/Old Testament among Christian scholars. This phenomenon, termed "Christian Hebraism", has attracted the attention of modern scholarship for a long time. The focus of modern scholarship has been theological, philological, intellectual, 16th and 17th century oriented, yet neither practical, nor interested in the grassroots level, nor that much in the 18th century. Only the Anglo-American academe has moved beyond these confines under the heading of "Political Hebraism", engaging in the question to what extent the political institutions of Biblical Judaism served as models for early modern politics. In some academic disciplines like international law we can also find references to Jewish models. This year's summer academy intends to move beyond the traditional perspectives and to broaden both the contents and the social reach of Christian Hebraism. In terms of content the emphasis will be on non-theological topics, like marriage law, ethnography, statistics, architecture, art and culture. To the extent that language is a topic, the focus is on Yiddish rather than Hebrew. Under the heading of the "Jewish desk" in 17th and 18h century administration and jurisdiction particular emphasis will be given to the modes of reception of Jewish law and culture by the Christian authorities.
